Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The response filed September 8, 2005 has been entered and considered.

Claims 1-24 are pending.

Claims 1-10, 18, and 22 are currently amended.

An action on the merits follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-24 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sacks (US 2002/0016765 A1) in view of Toohey (U.S. Patent No. 6,405,176 B1).

Regarding claims 1-9

Art Unit: 3625

Sacks discloses a method comprising receiving, from a third party shopping cart application, detailed information, in response to a user request to proceed with a payment for one or more items; and upon receiving the detailed information from the third party shopping cart application, communicating to the user via a communications network one or more user interfaces that facilitate processing of the payment for the one or more items. See particularly paragraph [0028]. The third part shopping cart application is considered external to the online payment service.

Detailed information may include item name, item number, item price, and item quantity. See paragraph [0017].

The user request to proceed with the payment is received when the user clicks a checkout button. See paragraph [0020].

Applicant's attention is directed to paragraphs [0036]-[0046] for a more detailed discussion of the method.

It is noted in Sacks that the third-party shopping cart is provided, managed and maintained by the payment processor. See paragraph [0028]. Although Sacks discloses that it may be used for purchases or transaction involving multiple sellers, it is not fully clear that the shopping cart application is external to the payment processor, per se.

Toohey, however, in a similar method (col. 1, lines 7-9), discloses an electronic shopping basket (48) application which is provided by an electronic mall (42) which attaches the electronic shopping basket to each electronic shopper as the shopper enters the mall (col. 3, lines 49-54). Each electronic basket, like the Sacks shopping cart, may be used for purchases or transactions involving multiple sellers (col. 4, lines 20-23).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided the method of Sacks to have included a third party shopping cart application external to the payment processor (of Sacks) in order to have provided the convenience of single payment transaction for all shopping among a plurality of sellers, and at the same time, allowing the sellers to receive data to update respective point of sale systems (Toohey: col. 2, lines 21-26).

Art Unit: 3625

Regarding claims 10-24

These claims are written as apparatus, system, and computer readable medium for performing the functions recited in the method of claims 1-9. These claims are rejected under a similar line of reasoning.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
